FinCity Global Forum: Tokyo's role as a global financial city in a post-COVID19 era and the future of asset management

2nd (Tue) February 2021

FinCity.Tokyo is pleased to announce that we will be holding our global online symposium titled "Tokyo's role as a global financial city in a post-COVID19 era and the future of asset management" on Tuesday, February 2, 2021.

This event will be the second global symposium to be organized by FinCity.Tokyo, which is the promotional organization launched in April 2019 based on the "Global Financial City:Tokyo" vision.

With the global pandemic of the new coronavirus and rising global geopolitical uncertainties, what role will Tokyo play as an international financial city and how can the asset management industry shape the future? Please join us for a lively discussion with rich perspectives from leaders representing government, investors, asset managers and listed companies.
